Spiritual Motherhood

May 13 9:30 and 11:15 AM

Rev. Clare Petersberger, Rich Madaleno, 11:15 service

Julia Ward Howe was a creative 19th century Unitarian. She awoke after a visit to see the Union troops to write the six verses to “The Battle Hymn of the Republic.” Twelve years later, however, she penned a Mother’s Day proclamation for peace---inviting an international gathering of women on June 2 to bring qualities of motherhood: compassion, patience, caring for one’s family, active citizenship. She had a vision of spiritual motherhood that involved citizens “exerting influence and watchfulness in all the walks of life....(giving every person) a noble part to perform in the great drama of the world.” Her goal was world peace. On this Mother’s Day, we celebrate spiritual motherhood past and present. Senator Rich Madaleno will speak on creativity, compassion, and citizenship in our second service.

YOUTH RELIGIOUS EXPLORATION

We will start out upstairs for our usual song, chalice lighting, welcome, and then a story. We will then be sung out to classrooms.

Trish Lott will be subbing for the DRE. Parents, please stop by the round table downstairs to sign up your children for YRE classes next fall.

K/1st grades: Creating Home, 16

Memories of Home, part 1

Activities in this session recap some of the themes explored in other sessions, while helping children identify what connects the old and new. Memories of both family home and faith home can be contained in physical objects, relationships, and rituals.

Rituals such as graces, Sunday night pizza, or bedtime routines can also carry over to a new home.

2nd /3rd grades: Timeless Themes #32
Crucifixion of Jesus

The goals are to become familiar with the events leading up to the death of Jesus, learn the meanings of the key words and concepts central to the message of the Christian church, and explore meaning and importance of symbols in their lives.

4th/5th grades: Bibleodeon

This group will continue to work on a mural of their favorite Bible stories. Then, they will plan what they would like to do for the YRE Sunday service on June 10.

6th/7th grades: Crossing Paths

The class will learn about the AME church to prepare for a visit on May 20 and do a unit on race.

8th through 12th grades:

The lunch fundraiser last week raised almost $300 for service trip next year! Thank you Jeanette for organizing and Jen and Natalie for helping. Teens will think about inclusive community as they jointly write a responsive reading for the YRE service on June 10.

ADULT RELIGIOUS EXPLORATION

FROM WHERE DO OUR BELIEFS COME?

How did each of us come to our individual beliefs will be examined by expressing those beliefs and what made each of us decide upon them. Examples of areas of discussion might include whether there is a god or not; animals and plants have souls; whether good behaviors are rewarded or not; reincarnation; afterlife communication; E.S.P.; free will, and, finally, love.

The next seminar—May 16th—will take place in Room 5 (downstairs) from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. Presenter: Harold Zeckel

MARY MAGDELENE ENERGY WORKSHOP

Mary Magdalene is one of the most devoted disciples of Jesus. With the sacred feminine energies emerging in our civilization, now is the time to cultivate the qualities shown to us through Mary Magdalene.

On Sunday, May 20, from 1:30-3 PM, there will be a free workshop in Room 6 led by Betsey Gilbert, during which time we will discover and explore the essence qualities of Tenderness, Devotion, Peace, and Oneness through discussion and meditation. Open to both women and men. For additional info contact Art Starr (see directory).

AMONG US

We are sad to hear of the recent death of Don Blamberg, husband of Pat Murphy, both longtime friends of this congregation. A memorial service for Don will be held a week from this Saturday on May 12 at the Columbia church, 7246 Cradlerock Way, Columbia, MD 21045. Time of the service is 12 Noon with a reception to follow. Pat's contact information is in the church directory.

CLARE'S COLLOQUY

Our spiritual question for May is, "What does it mean to be a people of creativity?"

A TUUC member reminded me, recently, that creative people have ideas.

He wrote to say he would like to gift me and Don with eight canna lily rhizomes that had wintered over in his basement. He wrote how they like the sun and the hummingbirds like them. He added, "They will be taller than you."

Creative people are action oriented. This member ended his generous offer of the canna lily rhizomes with one more offer---- to help plant them. Sure enough, Sean Mackey appeared with a dog on a leash and a garden hoe in one hand and a bright yellow bag containing about 20 canna lily rhizomes and a trowel in the other.

Creative people are wise from practice. After studying the trajectory of light across our backyard, Sean pointed to where we would plant the canna lily rhizomes that they might receive the fullest sunlight.

Creative people are energetic and enthusiastic about creating something new. We set to work. Sean did most of the work of planting with the garden hoe. But I made a small contribution with the trowel!

Creative people have a sense of accomplishment. After sculpting and patting the earth, Sean rinsed his hands in water from the garden hose, packed up his tools, untied his dog from the wisteria, and returned to his car.

This month we are exploring what it means to be a people of creativity in terms of experimenting with new ideas; acting on our values of caring and nurturing; joining our wisdom, practices, energy and talents to create beloved community; and honoring the sense of accomplishment brought by being a people of creativity.

As I type, the headlines are filled with news that President Trump has decided to pull the United States out of the Iran nuclear deal. I do not know where this news will lead us in terms of our nation's relationship to much of the world.

Thanks to Sean Mackey, I do know where to look for green sprouts, and, hopefully later in the summer, hummingbirds flying around red canna lilies.

And I do know where to look for visionary, supportive, hard-working, wise, enthusiastic people who come together "to create a world more fair with all her people one."

See you in church.

---Rev. Clare

THOUGHTS FROM THE BOARD

If you were to found an organization, what would it be? What would be its purpose or its mission? How would you structure it to achieve that mission? What if that organization was a religious community? What would it look like?

Would it consist of people of many different ages, genders, or ethnicities and from a variety of professions and socio-economic circumstances? How would you organize the leadership of that community to achieve and maintain diversity?

The question for May is “how do we be a people of creativity?” With the emerging blossoms of a resurrected earth all around us, we are reminded that creation is an ongoing and not a one-time act and that to sustain life we must continually change to adapt to changing circumstances. We must create and recreate. For organizations, this means constantly examining internal processes against the mission and vision of the organization.

Organizations achieve their missions and vision through governance that is tailored to their purpose. It’s like choosing a pickup truck to haul a bulk load of mulch over a Prius sedan. While governance structures can be tools for empowerment, they can also be tools for oppression.

How we structure relationships of power and authority in a group reflects our values and our deepest and usually subconscious beliefs about the nature of humanity.

Unfortunately, governance systems can, and often do, institutionalize implicit biases. Therefore, if TUUC is to be a community of creativity and fulfill its mission of deepening “our ethical and spiritual lives together as we work for racial, social and environmental justice,” we must be willing to assess our current governance.

TUUC must be willing to ask the hard question of how, in spite of our sincerest conscious desire to be allies to the marginalized, we the members have unwittingly perpetuated systems of injustice even within our walls.

Over the last two years, the TUUC Board has been educating itself on governance and examining TUUC’s current governance structure with the help of the UUA. Rev. David Pyle of the UUA prepared a governance assessment last year as part of that effort.

The governance assessment concluded that the current structure encourages the formation of silos within the church, which promotes in turn unhealthy competition, distrust, blaming, and anxiety, while inhibiting diversity and growth.

Rev. Pyle made several recommendations that the Board has adopted in creating a new governance structure through the Governance Task Force.

In offering a new TUUC governance structure, the TUUC Board is not disparaging the work of many individuals in this congregation to further social justice over the last decade, but lifting that work up and supporting it by asking how we can be more effective as an organization. The proposed governance structure seeks to empower members to be the change they seek by creating stronger connections among us.

This governance model clearly defines roles and responsibilities to prevent overlap of efforts, to streamline communication between governing, administrative, and programming bodies, and to foster greater coordination and unity of purpose in forwarding our mission.

To learn more about the prospective governance model and provide feedback, we invite you to an informational meeting at TUUC on May 15 at 7:00 pm or contact anyone on the Board, including me, Karyn Marsh, secretary@towsonuuc.org

OUR GOUCHER STUDENT

For those of you who are new to TUUC, our congregation is helping to sponsor a student at Goucher College. Our agreement specifies that the student come from a country on the "banned" list. Our student, Parsa Sheikholeslami, is from Iran. He was at Goucher for the fall semester, but, due to health issues, had to take the spring semester off. He is returning for the summer due to visa requirements. He will be taking one class at Goucher and the rest at CCBC for the summer term. Two wonderful TUUC members have stepped forward to lend him vehicles so he can get back and forth to school. He will be living in the dorm on the Goucher Campus.

We have made a commitment for $5000 per semester. This summer semester will not cost near as much as the regular school year. So we are hoping to raise $1000 to help him through this summer. We will resume our regular $5000 commitment in the fall. If you would like to make a donation of any amount to help Parsa out, please specify "Goucher Student" when you do so. He has expressed so much gratitude for our support. I hope you will get a chance to meet him this summer. Any questions should be directed to Monica Sweidel at stewardship@towsonuuc.org.

Reminder: please check the TUUC calendar before planning a meeting or event; complete an in-house space use form for congregational meetings or events and then contact the office to schedule. Want an easier view of the website calendar on your computer or on your smart phone? Click on "agenda" in the upper right hand corner to get a day/hour view of the calendar.

Note: A New Threshold Deadline Time!

GREEN SANCTUARY

MOTHER'S DAY FAIR TRADE COFFEE AND CHOCOLATE SALE, MAY 13

Celebrate Mother's Day with organic, fair trade coffee and chocolate from the Green Sanctuary Committee's table in the lobby. Your purchases support fair compensation for responsible farmers, including many women working to support their families, and directly fund the fair trade coffee served during Sunday coffee hour.

ONE WATER PARTNERSHIP

TUUC is considering joining Interfaith Partners for the Chesapeake (IPC) program called One Water Partnership as part of our commitment as a Green Sanctuary.

One Water Partnership asks congregations to take at least one step toward reducing their impact on the Jones Falls watershed. Although our building is not in the Jones Fall watershed, many of our members live within it. If you are interested in joining the bus tour of Baltimore neighborhoods and congregations that are part of this initiative, please respond to Bonnie Sorak of IPC. (see fliers available in the lobby).

GREETERS

GREETERS NEEDED

"Let us be a house of welcome." Those are words from the closing hymn we sang a few weeks ago. In order to live up to that imperative we need you to help us out by welcoming visitors to our services each week at the Greeters' Table at the front door.

What does it take to be a TUUC greeter? You should be kind, thoughtful, and a good listener...that means anyone in our congregation qualifies! It helps if you remember how uncertain you were when you first came to TUUC or a Unitarian Universalist service, since that will be a connection you have with first time visitors, too.

What are your obligations? It's a convenient and easy way to give service. Arrive 25-30 minutes before the service begins to greet visitors, and stay 20 minutes after the service to reconnect and find out how what visitors thought of the service and how we can further find ways for them to explore TUUC as their spiritual home.

You get to pick the dates and service times when you can do this. Each month there's a Doodle poll sent out to the list of greeters. Sign up for the service that fits your schedule.

So could you give us less than an hour once a month or even once every other month? If so let us know at the Greeters' Table that you would like to add your name to our team list or contact Jane Selewach directly.

Please share your smiles, your reasons for coming to TUUC, and your warmth. Let's make sure visitors, new members, and one another know that we are a "house of welcome."

UUA GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Every year in June, the Unitarian Universalist Association convenes a General Assembly to pass resolutions and provide direction on use of UUA resources in matters of social action. There are numerous worship opportunities and workshops on various topics, including church administration, humanism, leadership development, religious exploration, and social justice.

This year, GA will be in Kansas City, Missouri from June 20 until 24. Registration opens on March 1. There is a cost for registration, which is higher if you attend in person. Participation online is possible for a lower fee. More information can be found at <https://www.uua.org/ga>.

Registering early is recommended as the cost goes up closer to the event. If you would like attend in person, the UUA has blocked rooms at local hotels for discounted rates. However, these rooms tend to go quickly; so registering early will ensure housing.

TUUC has been allotted five delegates. Delegates vote in the general sessions on Actions of Immediate Witness, Congregational Study Issues, and Bylaws changes.

Although being there in person is best, you can be an off-site delegate and participate remotely via computer. If you are interested in being a delegate for TUUC, please contact Jasmine Faelyn at president@towsonuuc.org.

MUSIC

TUUC DRUM CIRCLE

The Drum Circle will meet this Saturday, May 12, at 7 PM. Bring a drum and/or small percussion if you have them. Join in the rhythmic fun, learn a little about playing djembe, and be part of the meditative drumming, too.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO SING ON JUNE 10TH!

We're gathering students in the following classes who would like to sing for the YRE Service on June 10th: 6th & 7th graders, OWL students, and YRUU combined. Please notify Tracy Hall if you think you will sing that day. We will rehearse BEFORE church and YRE on June 3rd at 9:30.

SPECIAL MUSIC SERVICE ON MAY 20

The special service on May 20 at 10:30 AM will be interactive and will include some very unusual music. We're exploring our creativity and doing some special activities that involve our senses, movement, and creating some music on the spot. Please dress comfortably (we promise absolutely EVERYONE can participate, regardless of your physical condition), bring a musical instrument if you play one, and plan to have some fun that day! If you are bringing an instrument that is not in the key of C--like a trumpet, or a clarinet, or a saxophone or French horn--please contact Tracy Hall ahead of time so she can help you to join in the fun!

UU SUMMER CAMPS AND PROGRAMS

Are you considering going to General Assembly this year? As noted by Jasmine, it will be held June 20 – 24, 2018, in Kansas City MO.

There are other ways to gather in body and spirit with other UUs during the summer. Here are some options that are popular with TUUC members:

UUMAC (Pennsylvania)

July 8 – 14, 2018, at DeSales University - one week with workshops, family-oriented activities and off-site trips, singing and music. Ask Joyce Duncan, Tom Zeller, or Tracy Hall about UUMAC.

www.uumac.org/wordpress/

SUUSI (North Carolina)

July 15 – 21, 2018 at Western Carolina University - one week with a large variety of workshops, nature trips, singing, worship, dancing, good for families, singles, couples and those with mobility challenges.

Ask Sue Royer or Marie Razulis about SUUSI.

www.suusi.org/

Ferry Beach (Maine)

Various theme camps and conferences (3 – 7 days) during different weeks of the summer. Ask Jay Herzog or Robin Sinn about Ferry Beach.

www.ferrybeach.org/

Other UU camps include Murray Grove (NJ), and Star Island (NH).

Consider making a UU summer camp or conference part of your summer experience!

PRAISES FOR UUMAC

As a response to the newsletter feature on UU summer activities, I would like to offer my reflections on UUMAC.

Because most UU's attend the Unitarian Universalist Mid-Atlantic Conference as families, I had not attended, though always had heard enthusiastic reports in the past. However, in 2016 I made a wonderful (life-changing?) decision: I would invite my 13-year-old granddaughter to attend with me.

Well, she LOVED it, as she affirmed yesterday, and she has gone again, along with her sister, who also LOVED it, and her cousin, who isn't even Unitarian and is returning because she LOVED it!

Rose felt welcomed from the minute we joined the others for Sunday dinner. She found "soul-mates" and can't wait to get back this July for her 3rd year.

She immediately felt comfortable enough to take some leadership in planning the vespers service the teens were in charge of as well as contributing, with Joyce Duncan's daughter Emma, to entertainment at one of the evening events. I saw new talents and was inspired by her.

I recommend UUMAC for a wonderful bonding with other UU's for you and your children, if you have children. I recommend it as a family vacation for a week of time together-and-apart. I recommend it for good food and accommodations (college dorm), but most of all for growth.

Please, check it out on-line.

ONGOING & UPCOMING

SUNDAY SERVICE

May 20 ONE SERVICE at 10:30 AM

Creativity and the Senses

Tracy Hall, the TUUC Choir

We often think of the arts when we think of creativity. But it's a complex and layered phenomenon that displays itself in a variety of fields and experiences. Sometimes it seems elusive; sometimes it stems from need and fuels an amazing resourcefulness; sometimes it is therapeutic and provides endless beauty. It can be especially enjoyable when it arises in a state of openness, freedom and spontaneity. What is your relationship with creativity? Come explore this question through some special music, through some activities, and through connecting with your fellow TUUCers. If you play any type of musical instrument, please bring yours today and help us engage in some on-the-spot creativity during the service.

EVENING BOOK GROUP

Wednesday, June 6 @ 7:30 PM

We'll meet downstairs to discuss The Hate U Give by Angie Thomas (464 pages)). Inspired by the Black Lives Matter movement, Angie Thomas's searing debut about an ordinary girl in extraordinary circumstances addresses issues of racism and police violence with intelligence, heart, and unflinching honesty. Newcomers always welcome. Please contact Carel Hedlund (info in directory) if any question.

SUMMER WORSHIP

COMING THIS SUMMER!

The TUUC Lay Worship Associates are gearing up for the summer! This year, we'll explore the idea of CREATING CONNECTIONS! How do we build and strengthen bonds with each other and the wider world? Annual favorites such as Storytelling and Poetry return, and there will be services on the inevitability of change, creative jobs, humility, and much more! From June 17-August 19, come connect with us!

TUUC values the internet privacy of our members, so we do not publish emails or telephone numbers in our newsletter. If you are a member, please consult the online Fellowship One program for those details about a member, or contact the office during weekly hours to obtain the necessary number or email. Thank you for understanding our efforts to safeguard your information.
