What does it mean to be a people of deep stillness?

DECEMBER 13, 2020 - 10:30 AM

REV. CLARE L PETERSBERGER; JOYCE DUNCAN, DIRECTOR OF RELIGIOUS EXPLORATION: *AND THIS SHALL BE A SIGN UNTO YOU

Signs give us direction. Signs give us warnings. And sometimes signs give us new life. This morning we consider signs in the ancient stories of this season---from the oil that miraculously burned long enough to rededicate the temple in Jerusalem to the heavenly host that appeared to the shepherds abiding in the fields. What unexpected signs are giving you hope and new life this December?

VIRTUAL VESPERS – DECEMBER 14 FROM 7-7:30 PM

Virtual Vespers is a contemplative service of readings and music. This is a time to rest from the demands of the world; to let go of stress; to meditate; and to deepen one's spiritual life.

YOUTH RELIGIOUS EXPLORATION

When we are still, all kinds of ideas, inner voices, and insights come to us. One way to think of it during this winter holiday season is to imagine these voices that arise out of the silence to be “angels speaking.” If we look for insights in the traditional Christmas birth legend of Jesus, we might even imagine ourselves as the shepherds in the still of the night, tending our flocks. When above us, we notice an angel calling us to make an important journey, a change in our lives, a new way of being in the world. So what’s one of the ways our faith guides us into becoming a people of stillness? It tells us, “Listen for the voices of angels!” Please join us at 9 am this Sunday for a family meeting followed by breakout classes for K through 4th and 5th -7th grades.

Members of the 8th/9th grade and YRUU groups helped to stuff stockings and sign cards for the men at Earl's Place and Prospect Place. Besides the basics provided by TUUC, toothbrushes and paste, body wash, tissues, deodorant and lip balm, YRE families donated socks, lotion, and small bags of candy. Joyce delivered these this week to Sheila Helgerson, who will make sure each resident gets a stocking.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 13 SERVICE INFORMATION

For Sunday, December 13, please join us at 10:15 am to be admitted prior to the service starting at 10:30. We will have break-out rooms for coffee and conversation following the service.

CLARE'S COLLOQUY

Recent notifications of sales for Black Friday reminded me of a lesson I learned twelve years ago. I purchased toys for two very active kittens: a tunnel to run through; a plastic sphere with a ball to chase round; a wand with feathers to bat at; and cloth mice filled with catnip to hunt.

One day, I noticed that the female kitten was sitting perfectly still in an empty cardboard box in the living room. I had not called her attention to it. She had found it. When I called her name, she did not move. She only moved when I moved toward her. That's when I realized we were playing a game of hide and seek that she had initiated. By the same token, one day I watched the male kitten run into an empty paper grocery bag. He spun himself round and round in the bag and then settled down and waited to be found. It helped that his tail was sticking out of the bag.

The two "toys" these kittens enjoyed most had been in the house all along. They were objects in which to hide in order for me to find them. That was the best game in town--being found by love.

Heading into winter holidays in the midst of a pandemic has reminded me of the kittens with the empty cardboard box and the brown grocery bag. Our celebrations will not be found "out there" this year. We will create them with things, and people, and creatures in our homes.

I hope you will count the spiritual home of TUUC as part of your home. Together in virtual space, we will imagine and live new ways to brighten these dark December days from weekly vespers on Monday evenings; to a blue holidays service on Dec. 11; to a 5 pm. family gathering on Christmas Eve to share favorite holiday ornaments and decorations and a more traditional virtual service at 7:30. You are invited to send me your answer to the question, "What unexpected signs are giving you hope and new life this December?" for the December 13th worship service in which we will celebrate Hanukkah as well as photographs of beauty that is stunning you to stillness for the December 20th winter solstice worship service.

We will not be able to physically gather around the menorah to sing the blessings in our Meeting Room or have a multigenerational pageant for Winter Solstice or fill the Meeting Room with candlelight on Christmas Eve. But like the kittens with their game of hide and seek in cardboard boxes and brown paper bags, may we experience finding others and being found in windows in virtual space by people we love and who love us. Happy Holidays.

The Leftovers by Tom Perrotta (2014—384 pages)

What if—whoosh, right now, with no explanation—a number of us simply vanished? Would some of us collapse? That's what the bewildered citizens of Mapleton, who lost many of their neighbors, friends and lovers in the event known as the Sudden Departure, have to figure out. Tom Perrotta has written a startling, thought-provoking novel about love, connection and loss.

2021 COMMON READ, BY ANDREW HAGER, PRESIDENT-ELECT

In Iceland, there is a holiday tradition where family members exchange books on Christmas Eve, then spend the night reading and eating chocolate. I find this simultaneously quaint and aspirational.

If, like me, you loved the thought of curling up with a book during the long, dark nights of late autumn and early winter, you'll likely relish the return of TUUC's Common Read. Last year, we read An Indigenous People's History of the United States. This year, we'll be reading a series of books about anti-racism and discussing them in the Spring as part of our ongoing education and discussion around the 8th Principle.

For February: Stamped from the Beginning by Ibram X. Kendi or Stamped (Young Adult Adaptation) by Jason Reynolds

Synopsis: "The construct of race has always been used to gain and keep power to create dynamics that separate and silence. Dr. Ibram X. Kendi's National Book Award-winning Stamped from the Beginning reveals the history of racist ideas in America, and inspires hope for an antiracist future. It takes you on a race journey from then to now, shows you why we feel, how we feel, and why the poison of racism lingers. It also proves that while racist ideas have always been easy to fabricate and distribute, they can also be discredited."

Meeting: Monday, 2/22/2021, 7:30-9:00 PM

For March: Punching the Air by Ibi Zoboi and Yusef Salaam

Synopsis: "From award-winning author Ibi Zoboi and prison reform activist Yusef Salaam of the Exonerated Five comes a powerful YA novel in verse about a boy who is wrongfully incarcerated."

Meeting: Monday, 3/22/2021, 7:30-9:00 PM

For April: Breathe: A Letter to My Sons by Imani Perry

Synopsis: "Emotionally raw and deeply reflective, Imani Perry issues an unflinching challenge to society to see Black children as deserving of humanity. She admits fear and frustration for her African American sons in a society that is increasingly racist and at times seems irredeemable. However, as a mother, feminist, writer, and intellectual, Perry offers an unfettered expression of love—finding beauty and possibility in life—and she exhorts her children and their peers to find the courage to chart their own paths and find steady footing and inspiration in Black tradition." (This is the UUA's Common Read choice for this year.)

Meeting: Monday, 4/19/2021, 7:30-9:00 PM
